

WACHEM Review 2

Is the purpose of the preferred value to allow users for the selection of a particular, preferred, result when an Observation might produce multiple results?

I think it should be a property of the Result, not the Observation.

If I have this wrong, then the preferred is for the Observation within the Observation Collection, in which case your original proposal is fine.